

Catacomb "ad Vicesimum", Morlupo RM

The catacomb, as is indicated by its name, is connected to the old outpost (statio) placed at the twentieth mile of Via Flaminia, nearby present-day Morlupo.

The cemetery is datable to the fourth century and, characteristically, is located within a pre-existing Roman cistern.