

Eulogy of Martyrs Nereus and Achilleus

Had enlisted for military service and were carrying out their cruel duty, in like manner attentive to the tyrant's commands and ready to obey his orders, compelled by fear.

But there is the miracle of faith! Suddenly, they laid aside their fury, converted they fled and abandoned the commander's sacrilegious encampment.
They flung away their shields, their military decorations and their weapons stained with blood.
After openly confess their faith, they rejoiced to carry the triumphs of Christ.
Trough Damasus, you also believe what the glory of Christ can achieve.
